City Council Passes $5.4 Million Budget Most of Increase Goes to Police Dept.

by Mary Lou Williamson
Council unanimously approved a $5.4 million budget for the City of Greenbelt on June 4. Council called for five new police officers without increasing the tax rate. Earlier this year, in the campaign to win approval of a $6 million bond issue for capital improvements, council had promised voters that the bond issue would have the least impact possible on the tax rate. With no change in the city's tax rate of $1.13 per $100 assessed valuation, council kept its promise. New development just coming on to the tax rolls and the triennial reassessment of existing development will bring most of the added tax dollars.

While most of the items of the budget were adopted unanimously, a few were not and two members felt the need to take special stands. Council member Thomas X. White objected to the 25% increase in council's salary to $4,000 per year, generally above the norm in other Maryland cities and towns, he said. Member of council Richard Pilski supported White with a "no" vote. White also objected to the last-minute addition of the $31,000 the city staff believes will be necessary to reconstruct the four unusable tennis courts at Braden Field. At the time council approved the item a year ago, the cost was anticipated to be $55,000. That amount is being re-appropriated to the new budget.

This cost overrun of more than 50%, declared White, needed careful public scrutiny, not passive acceptance. Pilski agreed, but pointed out that he was objecting to the manner in which the item had been added to the budget, not to the effort to fix tennis courts.

Pilski noted his objection to putting any active recreational facilities on parcel 7 (between Ivy Lane and Crescent Road across from the lake park) where council, he felt, intends to place the basketball court requested by the Boxwood Civic Association.

All members of council showed strong support for increasing the number of uniformed police. City Manager James K. Giese, in his original budget presentation to council, asked for two sworn officers, one police dispatcher and an office assistant. An independent study of the police department this year found no new sworn officers would be needed, strongly urged the other two positions to relieve officers of detailed office work. The FOP, the police chief and the Crime Prevention Committee members wanted 10 new officers. Thus council found the middle ground after a lengthy negotiating process at their decision-making final work session a week earlier.

Start-up costs for one sworn officer for one year are $28,900 including uniforms, training and special equipment.

Expenditures

The adopted general fund budget provides expenditures of $5,428,900, an increase of $810,600, or 17.5 percent over the 1984-85 budget. This amount represents an increase of $235,700 from the original budget submitted in April by the city manager.

The increases are: 1) addition of three uniformed police officers to begin Jan. 1, 1986 and the change from a starting date of October 1 to July 1 for the two new officers in Giese's original budget ($52,400), 2) an increase

Drive for the News Review Nets Kudos, Money Is Slow

by Cheryl Jones

"... a consistently outstanding publication" - unsigned.
"Enclosed is a small check to help out our great paper - the News Review. Keep up the good work!" - Juanita Wilmer "... Interesting and helpful" - a resident of Green Ridge House.

"... As Greenbelt grows, the News Review plays an increasingly important role in keeping citizens informed of local news. Donated in loving memory of our dear friend, Charles F. Schwan, Jr."—the Weidenfeld family.

"... I've lived in Greenbelt for 43 years and have looked forward to receiving my News Review every week. Four of my sons delivered the News Review."—Henrietta Haslinger.

"... The staff of the Prince George's Post-Sentinel extends its congratulations to the News Review and good wishes for its continued success"—This was in response to a public service announcement placed in the Sentinel by the Friends of the Greenbelt News Review.

"Please accept my donation in memory of the Greenbelt Nook & Cranny 1977-1979" Joyce Rumburg - Special Events Coordinator, Office of the County Executive. "Am enclosing my check in support of the News Review."—Bernadette Lorden.

The outpouring of support for the News Review has been phenomenal! We on the drive's steering committee have been impressed with the city's response to our efforts.

In addition to the volunteers and funds, some equipment has been donated. The Vellas contributed a re-conditioned manual Royal typewriter and Violet Jennewine, Green Ridge House, donated a new manual Smith-Corona typewriter.

The third week yielded 8 new volunteers, and $1,974 in funds bringing our totals to 59 volunteers and $5,473.

The door-to-door campaign in all the neighborhoods is about 98% complete. We have begun the process of following up the business solicitations with phone calls to jog a few corporate memories. This part of the drive has admittedly been slow in showing a response; we hope that the calls will remedy that.

Although this is the last week in June, and we should be winding down the drive, there is still a lot to do. We are still far below our financial goal for this campaign, and we urge you to contribute if you have not already done so. Let's run that thermometer over the top!

Celebrate with Fireworks, Concert at Attick Park

by Phil Rodkin

In order to celebrate this 209th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Greenbelt is once again preparing a myriad of activities to commemorate Independence Day. The highlight of the holiday will be the fireworks being set off with the onset of dusk.

The Thursday night festivities will officially begin at 7 p.m. at Buddy Attick Park, by Greenbelt Lake, when the Greenbelt Concert Band, Conducted by John DelHomme, commences a program of patriotic scores. The selection includes the "Greenbelt March," "Over There Fantasy," "America" (with a solo by Natalie Seimonelli), as well as a number of other marches and festival music. The finale of the concert band, the striking "1812 Overture," by the Russian composer Peter Tchaikovsky, will lead into the fireworks extravaganza.

The fireworks are a favorite yearly tradition of city residents. The loud, colorful spectacle, for the first time will be supplied by the Vitale Co., of New Castle, Pa. The fireworks will be launched by Public Works staff who are certified pyro technicians. The cost of the fireworks is estimated at approximately $3,500 for the 40 minute display.

This year's show, according to the Public Works Department, will entail a variety of shells of differing shapes and sizes. Along with other pyrotechnics will be such perennial favorites as the "Battle of the Battleships" and the "American Flag." The show is expected to end around 9:30 p.m. In case of rain, the display will be postponed until the next clear night.

Rules to Live By

partments have set down some guidelines for the Independence Day evening. They suggest walking to Greenbelt Lake, as parking is expected to be as monstrous as ever. (Handicapped persons may be dropped off at the parking lot.) No alcohol of any sort is allowed on park premises and animals must be leashed at all times. Police do not encourage bringing pets in the first place - since the loud noise and congested area of the lake may prevent them from enjoying the evening to the fullest.

The most essential law to be followed is that no private fireworks are permitted. Not only do these small effects subtract from the grandeur of the main performance, they are also illegal and highly dangerous to the launchers and bystanders.

Recreational Activities

By no means is the band and fireworks show the only noteworthy event.

Federal Funds Committed For Design of B-W Bridge

Congressman Steny Hoyer announced today that the State of Maryland will be receiving $200,000 in federal funds for design work on a project to widen the Route 193 (Greenbelt Road) bridge over the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. Plans have already been underway for widening Route 193. However, they do not include funding for widening of the bridge.

"Non-News"

To the Editor:

The article in the Washington Post about the controversy over Father Stack's appointment as pastor of St. Hugh's and the News Review's article about St. Hugh's Teen Club reorganization are non-news events.

Any regular reader of the Post must have been surprised to see this article on the top front page of the Metro section rather than the Religious section if carried at all.

The extensiveness and prominence given the News Review article also seems overdone and out of place. So then what is the point? Discredit Father Stack? Keep pressure on the Diocese to appoint a new pastor?

Find another way than manipulating news or will we be watching tomorrow on the 6 o'clock news that Father Stack has switched Bingo callers?

Utopia Play a Hit

"The Greenbelt Players have a winner on their hands, and they know it." So begins the review of "Arsenic and Old Lace" (currently at the Utopia Theater) written by Leonard Hughes and published in the Prince Georges Journal.

This Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m., the 14-member cast presents the last two performances of the Joseph Kesselring classic comedy about the strange goings-on at the Brewster house.

Hughes describes the set as a "towering, realistic approximation of an old Victorian living room" in which the various players sort out their strange destinies. Abby (Judy Holland) and Martha (Marie Tousignant) are called "quite a comic pair" by this reviewer. The play has received kudos in numerous area papers.

Greenbelt residents among the cast include, besides Holland of Crescent Road and Tousignant of Olivewood Court, the following people: Gary Smith, Ridge Road; Tom Douthat of Springhill Lake; Bruce Miller of Windsor Green; Frank Pearlman of Plateau Place; Tom Schreiber of Westway; and Ron Tousignant of Olivewood Court.

The large audience at Saturday night's performance seemed to agree with Hughes' assessment that "the cast appears to be having a good time with the show." Many people, including a number of children, came to the stage after the show to express their enjoyment, says director Marie Tousignant.

The Journal review concluded: the play is "hanging around all month, so there is no excuse to pass it up."

Magnet School Plan Receives Strong Support in PG County

by Norman Scherstrom

The magnet school program to achieve desegregation through voluntary busing appears, for the present, to have overcome vocal criticism by the NAACP and the doubts of detractors who felt the carrot could not replace the stick in integrating the Prince Georges County public schools.

Though the program has yet to enroll its first student, the signing of a "memo of understanding" between the Prince Georges County Board of Education and the NAACP on June 21 and the flood of applications for entry into the program have buoyed the program promoters' confidence.

"We're blazing a whole new trail," Prince Georges County public school spokesman Brian Porter said. "and we've greatly exceeded our expectations. I think it shows a voluntary integration effort can work."

Jean Hamill, speaking for the talented and gifted program (TAG), was no less ebullient. "We're very gratified. We had an open house at the magnet schools and attracted over 4,000 people. You had to park down the street and walk back to the school. We've had an onslaught of applications. I think credit has to go to John Murphy for this."

John Murphy, Prince Georges County school superintendent, having had the opportunity to watch the magnet school program work in other jurisdictions, championed the program in Prince Georges County.

Murphy hailed the signing of the memorandum with the NAACP. "I think we're entering into an era of cooperation," he said. "We'll be getting away from this confrontation."

Under the agreement, the county has three years to prove the efficacy of voluntary desegregation.

The agreement also calls for increased funding for 10 predominantly black schools which the board feels cannot be fully integrated, a limit of six TAG schools, and creation of a back-up busing plan if the magnet approach fails.

As of Monday, 1,731 applications have been received for the 1,000 openings in the TAG program and 540 for the 400 openings in the workplace program. School officials point out that some of the 540 applicants for the workplace program reside in the school district and will not count against the 400 new admissions to the program.

July 8 Deadline

Applications must be in by July 8 to ensure inclusion in the first random drawing for the available openings. Qualified students who reside in the magnet school districts are not subject to the random drawing and public school students have precedence over private school students wishing to transfer. To find out what schools Greenbelt children will attend or for other information, call 952-4706.

Committees at each school will determine the qualifications of the applicants based on standardized achievement and abilities tests as well as a list of observed behaviors prepared on each applicant.

A subsequent drawing will be held for those missing the July 8 thy event happening in Greenbelt on July 4. From 12 to 6 p.m. the Greenbelt Lion's Club will complete their sale of raffle tickets. Their fundraising activities, in behalf of the sight and hearing impaired have been underway in Greenbelt for the past three months. The culmination of these efforts can be seen at the lake bandstand, where display of the Lions' programs will be on view. The mayor will be on hand to draw the winning raffle ticket. The holder will receive a mini caravan from Sporting Life in Beltway Plaza. All spectators are encouraged to donate their used unneeded eyeglasses to the Lions Club.

The Baptist Church on Crescent Road will present a free puppet show beginning at 6 p.m.

deadline but those unselected in the first drawing will have priority.

While the mood is currently optimistic, the bitterness of past desegregation disputes has not been forgotten. "We have been in court for the last 13 years over desegregation," Hamill said.

And as recently as June 19, the board considered appealing the 1983 federal court desegregation order but voted 7 to 2 not to appeal in the face of community and NAACP pressure.

For now, and the next three years, the question will be: Behind which door lies the future of desegregation in Prince Georges County, that of the carrot or that of the stick?

The play, to be over in time for the night festivities, is secular and open to all.

Softball and tennis tournaments will be held on Independence Day. The former begins at 9 a.m. at Braden and Northway fields. The softball winners will go on to play the top teams in the metropolitan area. The Greenbelt Tennis Association will present their 1985 single elimination Independent Tennis Tournament at Braden Field. This is a competition including singles, doubles, and mixed doubles matches, open to all who register by the 6 p.m. July 3 deadline. All interested individuals should contact tournament director Jim Kyles at 474-7258.

The swimming pools, as well as the recreation centers in Old Greenbelt and Springhill Lake will close at 6 p.m. so all can attend the fireworks show.

Revenues

Total revenues anticipated are $4,961,700, reflecting an increase over original estimates of $3,500 — a grant from the county for the city's social service agency, Greenbelt CARES. The agency counsels some non-city residents for which the county is responsible. Total taxes from real property are estimated at $2,206,900 or 40 percent of the expected cost of running the City of Greenbelt for the coming year.

Council determined to use $467,200 from the city's unappropriated surplus to balance the budget — about double the original budget proposal.

Revenue Sharing

In a separate action council determined how the city will spend its federal revenue sharing funds of $108,500. As usual a large amount, $45,000, will go to bond redemption; the rest will go toward capital improvements: 1) new equipment for various departments ($10,000), 2) word and data processing for all departments ($50,000), and 3) making public facilities more accessible to the handicapped ($3,500).

Council Provides Direction - Okays Directional Signs for Md. Trade Center

by Bob Hickman

A directional signage plan for the Maryland Trade Center in Greenbelt was partially approved by the city council at its June 10 meeting. The plan proposes using four different sign designs at 16 locations to direct traffic from Greenbelt Road to the Trade Center via Hanover Parkway and Greenway Center Drive. The plan was submitted by Coakley and Williams, developers of the Maryland Trade Center Park.

With two conditions council accepted the recommendations of the Advisory Planning Board (APB) in approving the plan: 1) lowering the height of the entrance signs from nine feet to seven feet and 2) prohibiting placement of signs within dedicated street rights-of-way. The council, led by Mayor Pro-Tem Richard Pilski in the absence of Mayor Wedenfeld, also stipulated that a sign be provided for the Martin's facility. Council also asked that design of the sign at the entrance of the Greenway Center be altered. It was considered an obstruction to the vision of drivers entering the Center.

In a presentation to council, the graphics designer hired by Coakley-Williams provided scale models of the signs, which are to be made of metal and dark colored plastic, with white letters and a blue Trade Center logo at the top. The signs would be lit from the inside for an unobtrusive appearance at night, said officials from the design firm.

Councilmember Antoinette Bram expressed concern regarding the number of signs and said that the signs should be vandal-proof. Pilski also expressed concern at the number of signs, stating that three high-rise structures are a greater identity than any other business on Greenbelt Road.

Terry Coakley of Coakley-Williams said that the buildings were visible but that people aren't quite sure how to get there and that the proposed signs would solve that problem.

No Waiver on Driveways

The council also refused to grant a waiver requested by Land Development Association, Inc. for construction standards that would allow asphalt instead of concrete driveway entrances in the Green Holly Woods subdivision until standards for such waivers can be developed by the city.

The waiver was desired for two driveway entrances from Mandan Road to serve parking areas for the second phase of the development. A waiver had been granted previously for three driveway entrances to Mandan Terrace, according to City Manager James Giese.

Giese said that all other driveway entrances on Mandan Road are concrete, and that concrete looks better and also differentiates roadway from driveway. On the other hand, he said concrete driveways must be completed early in construction and run the risk of damage by equipment and vehicles. In response to councilmember Bram's comment that concrete last longer, Giese replied that the quality of concrete work is decreasing, and that the chance of a need for repairs or replacement later is great.

Asphalt driveways, he said, are less expensive and can be placed in two steps to provide a base that can be used during construction and a final layer when work is completed.

Councilmember Tom White said he was concerned that if this waiver was granted, every request would be for an asphalt driveway. When councilmember Ed Putens recommended that consideration of the waiver be postponed until the city can develop standards, the council agreed 3 to 1, with Bram dissenting.

Coordination with GHI

In other action, the council agreed to consult with Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) regarding the addition of a price of woodclimbing equipment at a playground at 2-Court of Laurel Hill and concerning improvements to Ridge Road, Crescent and Gardenway.

The playground equipment had been requested by petition from the residents of 2-Court Laurel Hill. Giese said that the location proposed had been previously opposed by GHI, which preferred a location near the 14-court of Hillside. The Greenbelt Park and Recreation Advisory Board has recommended that the equipment requested be installed, and that playgrounds on GHI-owned property be repaired and then turned over to GHI for future maintenance.

Giese also stated that GHI had requested a meeting of the GHI Board of Directors and the Council to discuss the improvements to Ridge Road from Westway to Crescent and Crescent from Ridge Road to 7-Court. Gardenway would be improved for its entire length. A public hearing on May 29 revealed that some residents were opposed to the sidewalks included in the improvements, and some were in favor, Giese said.

Councilmember White volunteered to attend a meeting with GHI on both topics.

Left Turn Lane

Council also voted unanimously to go on record in support of a request by the Holy Cross Lutheran Church to obtain a left turn lane on Greenbelt Road for the church entrance. At a recent work session, Council was advised that the county intends to widen Greenbelt Road to six lanes in that area and members were assured that a left turn lane for the church would be included.

Other Actions

On other matters, Council accepted a staff report on options available for street and roadside improvements and agreed to schedule a work session on the report if any action is needed.

Council also agreed to take no action on a request for a zoning variance at 7206 Morrison Drive for construction of a sundeck, and at 15 Empire Place for construction of a carport requiring a variance to the side yard requirement of 2.5 feet.

Action was deferred on bids received for storm drainage at the Maryland Trade Center III, Hanover Parkway at Hanover drive, because the city was not prepared to make a recommendation. In other bid action, council unanimously approved the higher priced Kubota diesel tractor over a John Deere bid that did not meet specifications. Council also unanimously agreed to accept the recommendations of Police Chief Frank Hutson for the purchase of nine portable police radios from Motorola Communications and Electronics Inc., at $8,850.99. A lower bid by Continental Associates at $7,614 was found not to meet the specifications by Chief Hutson, according to city manager Giese.

In other action, council accepted the resignation of Sharon Weidenfeld from the Crime Prevention Committee and unanimously approved the recommendation of Greenbelt CARES Director Carol Leventhal to continue employment of two consultants at an increased rate. David Pelligrine, Ph.D., will be employed at the rate of $60 an hour, a five dollar per hour increase, and Molly Schuchat, Ph.D., would be employed at an average of 24 hours per month for the annual fee of $7400, an increase of $200 over the previous year.

Council also unanimously approved the recommendations of the Advisory Planning Board to grant a departure from sign design standards for Citizens Bank of Maryland and allow the bank an exception to standards that say signs are permitted only if the building is located 40 feet behind the street line.

Citizens Bank, which is outside the city limits, is 40 feet from Greenbelt Road but not from Branchville Road. The planning board noted that the sign proposed is smaller than an existing sign and would set back 10 feet from the sign being replaced.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A woman and her young son were the victims of an indecent exposure at about 7:30 p.m. on June 18 at Attick Park. The suspect was described as a white male, 25-35 years old, 6'1" with a broad build, light complexion and brown hair. When last seen, he was wearing faded jeans and a red and white T-shirt. A woman who resides in the 6100 block of Breezewood Court was also the victim of an indecent exposure incident which took place about 1 a.m. on June 16. The suspect was described as a white male in his 20's, 5'10", thin build with shoulder-length brown hair and thin legs. He was wearing gray shorts and a T-shirt.

On June 18, two female students were accosted at Eleanor Roosevelt High School by a nude man who was driving a dark green pickup truck with yellow lettering arranged in a rainbow pattern. The suspect was described as a white male, 19-22 years old, 5'7", collar-length curly blond hair. He may have had a moustache.

Officer Robert F. Keller arrested a fugitive wanted by the State of Arizona for forgery. The man had been stopped for a routine traffic violation. He was released to the Prince Georges County Sheriff for extradition.

Two male juveniles from Lantham were arrested by Pfc. Craig A. Rich for strong-armed robbery when they forcibly removed two yearbooks from another student at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. The incident took place on June 13.

Numerous thefts from auto took place last week from cars in the Greenbriar and Glen Oaks complexes. Two possible suspects, described as "punk rockers," are wanted for questioning in regard to the thefts. One is a white male, 16-20 years, 5'9", 160 lbs. with white hair standing on end, last seen wearing a dark brown leather jacket. The other individual is a white male, 16-20, 6'6", thin build, last seen wearing a dark, round hat. These individuals were seen about 1 a.m. on June 15 tampering with an auto in the 8000 block of Mandan Road. The police ask residents to pay attention to persons in the parking lots late at night and not to leave possessions in sight inside cars.

Thefts from women's purses were reported at the Greenbriar swimming pool on June 13.

A breaking and entering occurred at 5:10 a.m. on June 12 in the 6100 block of Breezewood Court. That same night, a fire extinguisher was thrown through a bedroom window of the same apartment.

Devlin Bill Signed

Gov. Harry R. Hughes recently signed into law a bill by Del. Gerard F. Devlin which sets up a State funding system to assist counties and cities in providing transportation for the elderly and the handicapped.

The Bill provides for the expenditure of $1.5 million in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1985.

"I am very pleased that Gov. Hughes signed my bill and also included money in his budget,"

Greenbelt Softball Team To Play in Tournament

The National Bus women's softball team defeated teams representing Prince Georges and Montgomery counties and northern Virginia in the Area Berth Tournament on June 22 and 23 held at Watkins Regional Park. The tournament was sponsored by M-NCPPC and A.S.A.

Bus struggled in the first game of the tournament but then came back to win the remaining two games in its bracket. The top four teams returned on Sunday to compete in a double-elimination tournament. Bus cruised through the winners' bracket, defeating A. J. Trucking and Devlin Lumber, only to meet A. J. Trucking in the championship game. In the action-packed championship game Bus defeated A. J. Trucking 8-6 to win the women's 'B' area berth. The area tournament is the highest level of class B softball. The tournament will be held in Ramsey, N.J. over the Labor Day weekend.

In May Bus won the Maryland Recreation and Parks Association tournament to gain a berth in the regional tournament, which will be played at Watkins Regional Park in August.

A balance of tough defense, solid offense, and aggressive base running was the key to the victories. Team members include Kathy Bowen, Candi Burr, Joy Catlin, Jane Connolly, Cheryl Conrad, Carolyn Garnett, Harriet Harrison, Maureen Irving, Kathy James, Bernadette Kerely, Ruth Martin, Ann-Marie Maslanik, Cindy Miller, Kathy Paolucci, Erin Reid, and Joann Rowe. The team is coached by Harry James, Tom Mast and Joann Rowe.

To Your Smile

Ray Vidal, D.D.S.

What is a "cap"?

A "cap" or crown is used to restore proper form and function to a tooth which is structurally defective or has been broken down by decay or injury. With few exceptions, most crowns completely cover the tooth.

Complete crowns are made of metal, acrylic, or porcelain, alone or in combination. The most natural looking and durable material is porcelain fused to a metal core.

In preparation for a crown, a small portion of the outside of the tooth may have to be reduced in size. This is to allow adequate room for the thickness of the crown material. In this way the completed restoration duplicates the original contour and size.

Beware of Firecrackers, Sparklers on the Fourth

With the 4th of July rapidly approaching, the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene is warning Maryland residents that fireworks are dangerous and illegal in Maryland.

Fireworks result in unnecessary injuries and even death, as well as costly hospital bills and property damage.

According to the Consumer Products Safety Commission statistics, burns account for the majority of fireworks-related injuries (59 percent). Other injuries caused by illegal fireworks include blindness or amputation of fingers or hands. Firecrackers, bottle rockets and sparklers contribute to the most hospitalizations.

Parents are urged not to allow children to purchase or play with fireworks. The sparkler, considered by some to be the ideal, safe fireworks for children, burns at a very high temperature and can easily ignite clothing. Sparklers are outlawed in Prince Georges County.

I provide in-home service in this neighborhood 3 days each week as well as some evenings and weekends. I'm bonded, licensed and top rated for over 25 years. You can count on my estimates and prompt fair service. I always call before visiting, carry more than 5 times the normal inventory of parts, and can (almost) always repair your Color TV IN YOUR HOME, ON ONE TRIP. I repair HI FT'S and VCR's also. I buy broken color Zenith portables. Call with model and chassis no's. from back of set.

Thanks for reading my AD. Please save it.
